A very delightful and entertaining

All young people should attend the meeting at Central M. E. Church tonight. These meetings are conducted by the YOUNG PROPLE and are very interesting as well as instructive. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

In three weeks work will begin on the Hillsboro road. It will be graded and then macadamized. Two stone crushers will be here by that time. The county convicts are now at work on the road leading by the Insane Asylum and have pearly reached Walnut creek.

Loose cows are a great annoyance in the northeastern part of the city. A gentleman was heard to remark yesterday that cows had badly frightened his little children several times while out playing under the shade trees on Oak-wood avenue, and he thought the city authorities ought to see that a stop is

If the city authorities were to see the water running in the ditches of some of the city's most beautiful streets, especially in the northern part of town, no doubt they would object, and that seriously. It would be a good idea for housekeepers to make a note of this and either have the water turned on only when necessary, or connect with the sewer.

Spleudid Programme--The Rich Art Gallery.

Last night was a brilliant one at St. Mary's. It was the occasion of the annual commencement concert—an event of great pleasure and interest in Raleigh for many years.

The faculty of this famous institution have the greatest reason to congratulate themselves on their success, and the brilliant ending of the session just closed. They had a practical realization of this fact last night, when the large and cultured audience showered expressions of appreciation upon the teacher and the young ladies of the school for the very pleasant evening's entertainment. Dr. Aug. Kursteiner was justly proud of his music class. Indeed, if he is mortal man, he could not have felt otherwise at the splendid success of his pu-

The Programme,

The elegance of the entertainment may be imagined by a glance at the following summary of the programme: There were recitations-"The Courtin," by Miss Annie Moore; "Elaine," by Miss Lilian Holmesly; "A Royal Prin-cess," Miss Daisy Horner; "How Ruby Played," Miss Alice Henderson; "A

Vocal solos—all richly enjoyed—were rendered by Miss Alice M. Dugger, Miss Mary Cowper, Miss Octavia Winder (with accompaniment by Miss Nannette Stone) and Mies Lillian Holmesley.

There was a rich piano duo by Misses Murray and Hardin; a vocal quartette by Misses Badham, Cowper, Holmesly and Phillips; also one by Misses Higgs, Bush, Alston and Hardy. Two of the most pleasant numbers of the evening were semi-choruses, rendered by the "Philomela" club, the members of which are Misses Dugger, Badham, Caldwell, first sopranos; Miss Holmesley, Cowper, Harris, second sopranos; Misses Allston, Bond, Philips, contraltos.

In water colors Miss Bush and Miss Dancy have accomplished most beautiful results. A study in Jacquimenot roses, by Miss Bush, is clear and well drawn. Miss Dancy's painting is careful and true.

In oil, Miss Laura Bingham showed some elegant decorative work. Her screen, covered with chrysanthemums, would be an addition to any drawing

Misses Hardin, Holmesly and Caldwell exhibited some creditable work rich and elegant, and a little beyond description, and numerous beyond men-tion. Miss Hardin made a good, clear water color drawing, "A Scene in

[By United Press.] LONDON, June 11.—Within the last fortnight an appalling number of suicides have occurred in St. Petersburg and other Russian cities, the victims of the better class. To-day another student in the Russian school of W. mines shot himself dead, and the motive for the deed is regarded as very mysterious by his associates. The St. Petersburg police, however, connect all these self-murderers with the recent ar rest of nihilists in Paris, and ascribe them to the revelations contained in the correspondence captured at the lodgings of the conspirators by the Paris police. The Russian police authorities are now more than ever convinced that the Paris nihilists were connected with a conspiracy in St. Petersburg, of wide ramifica-tions and influential membership, against the life of the Czar, and the attempt of the minister of the interior to obtain, through the French embassador, the names of those in correspondence Spanish Romance," Miss Elizabeth H. with the Paris plotters, will, if successful, unquestionably keep up the average of suicides for weeks to come, unless it

CINCINNATI, O., June 11.-A special from Columbus, Ohio, to the Times Star says: The consolidated street railway company this morning made another attempt to run cars manned by non-union men. The company secured the promises of a number of non-union men whom they had cooped up in the cellar under their down town offices. This morning a company of policemen escorted a number of these men to the Oak street stables. The section is one of the most highly reputable in the city. A crowd of several hundred gathered and proceeded to obstruct the tracks by piling up stones. A real estate dealer named Kauffman unhitched the horses from a car, and was arrested by order of Mayor Bruck. At this juncture a mass of employees from factories and all the carpenters and brick masons employed on neighboring buildings marched up, swelling the crowd to 3,000. Chief Murphy ordered the cars taken back to the stables and all the new employees, with but two or three exceptions, which included notorious Mitchell, went over Miss Bridgers work is not, strictly in a body to the strikers. It can be said without exaggeration or sensation, that unless the street railroad company comes to terms to day, Columbus is on the eve of a labor riot. The entire sympathies of the community are with the strikers, and the factories are all ready to shut down to aid them in any attempt to gain the advance demanded. The police are absolutely powerless before the great army of mechanics who men, and only a strong military force could insure the running of cars.

At your left you will notice two long tables piled with the prettiest line of Ribbons you have seen this season. You will find all colors and any quality that would be needed for any purpose, all at a price that is $5 per cent. less than we sold them one month ago. Our millinery goods are always considered the best and cheapest to be found, but with this additional reduction of 25 per cent. you can imagine what a fine piece of all silk Ribbon that usually sells for 50c. per yard is sold for by us. Nothing like this opportunity was ever offered you in Ribbons before. Of course you will find some cotton among the lot, but the majority of the pieces are all-silk. We are offering our other lines of millinery goods at reduced prices now also. We believe we have one of the best assorted lines of Millinery goods to be found in the State, and as the season will soon be over we desire to close out, as near as possible, the entire line; this is why we offer lower prices.
